Weathering the big freeze

It is that time of the year again when the nights are going to become very cold. Protecting your pipes from the freeze can be missed. Freezing pipes can cause thousands of dollars of damage and they can be a huge inconvenience. There are a few things that we can all do around our homes to help protect against freezing pipes.

- Leave the heat on in the home even when you are going to be gone for an extended length of time.
- First be sure that all your vents under the house are covered, just a little wind under the house can freeze pipes.
- Be sure any exposed plumbing is well insulated. An example is where your water line comes out of the ground and into the house.
- If you are concerned about freezing pipes let your water run just a little. It only takes a stream smaller than a pencil to prevent freezing.
- Open cabinet doors to allow heat to get around un-insulated pipes under sinks and appliances near exterior walls.

Freezing pipes can easily be prevented, we just have to remember to take steps to prevent them.

Dennis Kirk retires from the board Dedicated Service from 2010 - 2019

Dennis was elected to the board in November of 2010. When first coming to the board, Dennis was an instrumental part of bringing the water company to where it is today. For the first 8 months after starting his term in 2010, Dennis took on the role of the general manager, putting in endless hours to get the company back on its feet.

Dennis truly believed in the idea that we are here to serve the members and that integrity, honesty, and transparency would be the success of the company. He has always supported our mission to supply dependable, safe, and pure drinking water to members.
